

2-GROUP BELYI MAPS

A Thesis

Submitted to the Faculty in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of

Doctor of Philosophy

in

Mathematics

by

Michael James Musty

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE

Hanover, New Hampshire

January 24, 2019

Examining Committee:

---

John Voight, Chair

---

Thomas Shemanske

---

David Roberts

---

Carl Pomerance

---

F. Jon Kull, Ph.D.
Dean of Graduate and Advanced Studies

Abstract

Write your abstract here.

Preface

Preface and Acknowledgments go here!

Contents

Abstract . . . . .	ii
Preface . . . . .	iii
1 First Chapter	1
1.1 Shorter Title . . . . .	1
1.1.1 Example of a subsection . . . . .	1
1.2 A Second Section . . . . .	2
References	3

---

Chapter 1

---

First Chapter

Every good story begins with a twist. Let's test it out and see how it goes. Beginning to ending, just spin around!

Section 1.1

Section with an Unnecessarily Long Title

Every good story begins with a twist. Let's test it out and see how it goes. [1]
Beginning to ending, just spin around!

1.1.1. Example of a subsection

---

Every good story begins with a twist. Let's test it out and see how it goes. Beginning to ending, just spin around!

Subsubsections, the final formatted heading. Every good story begins with a twist. Let's test it out and see how it goes. Beginning to ending, just spin around!

Section 1.2

A Second Section

Every good story begins with a twist. Let's test it out and see how it goes. Beginning to ending, just spin around!

---

Bibliography

- [1] Jean-Pierre Serre, Topics in galois theory, AK Peters/CRC Press, 2016.